WEDDING BELLS FAIL TO RING FOR PRESTI

Discovers That Fiance Has Husband as Knot Is to Be Tied.

Special to The Tribune.

OGDEN, May 8.—The cup of happiness was dashed from the lips of Ernest Presti, better known as "the French Kid," when his sweetheart informed the notary public who had been called to perform the ceremony that she had been married once and was not entirely satisfied that her husband had procured a divorce. Not willing to take the chance, the dauntless ex-prize fighter said that he supposed it was best to postpone the ceremony until the red tape of the law had been complied with.

This announcement came from Prudence L. Eastman, the near bride, while she was reclining against a cell at the police station to which she had been taken several hours before upon the complaint of the jealous Presti, who had reported an indiscreet act of the young woman to the police.

To make amends he hid himself to the office of the County Clerk, accompanied by the father and uncle of the girl, to secure a marriage license. Since the deputy in the office balked when he saw that the necessary personage clad in petticoats was not among those present, after vainly expostulating, the father explained that the girl was sick and could not accompany them. When told that he could secure one of the deputies to tie the knot, he demurred, preferring a notary public.

Together they all went to the police station, where Prudence sat and gazed wistfully between the iron-slatted cells. A smile lit up her face when she saw an opportunity to leave the prison, but this was soon dispelled when there could be no wedding bells until she had secured a divorce from her first.

Resigning the little party left the city. The door again closed on Prudence, as there was not $10 in the wedding fund. The sequel to the dramatic little affair developed in the Police Court Friday morning, when the girl was released on promise to leave the city. Presti is still here. The deputy in the County Clerk's office smilingly returned the disappointed father of the girl returned and reported that there was nothing doing.

STATE NORMAL STUDENTS VISIT SCHOOLS AT OGDEN

Special to The Tribune.

OGDEN, May 8.—Accompanied by prominent educators of Salt Lake City, 150 normal students of the University of Utah arrived in Ogden shortly after 8 o'clock Friday morning for the purpose of visiting the educational institutions here. A string of street cars was at the depot to receive the party. Later in the afternoon, where several addresses were delivered, the party was shown over the city, including the Weber State academy, where several addresses were delivered. ## DECREPIT VAGRANT DREAMS OF A LEGACY

Special to The Tribune.

OGDEN, May 8.—A gray-haired, bearded old man was among the vagabonds who explained the why, wherefore and when of their existence in the police court Friday morning. The old man, who gave his name as E. E. Chase, denied with much dignity that he was a vagrant. In his pipe-dreamed state he told the court how he was beneficiary to the will of one Dudley Chase, who the old fellow said had died in this city some time ago. Vainly he had attempted to have the will investigated, but disappointment had been dashed out of him at every session held with attorneys. According to his story he would be independently rich if he just had what was coming to him.

INTERURBAN TO HAVE A TEMPORARY DEPOT

Bamberger Road Will Not Begin Permanent Terminal Building for Some Time.

Special to The Tribune.

OGDEN, May 8.—Negotiations were completed Friday by which Simon Bamberger, president of the Salt Lake & Ogden Railway company, has secured a lease on a site for a temporary depot in this city. The location will be near the corner of Lincoln avenue and Twenty-fifth street. Work on the structure will begin at once, in order to be ready for the opening of the road Decoration day.

The site which was purchased some time ago and upon which the permanent depot will be built, is at Twenty-second street and Grant avenue, but owing to obstacles thrown in the way of the progress of the road, this corner will not be used for some time. ## HUGS AND KISSES GIRL IN PRESENCE OF WIFE

Sensational Charges Against Hiel L. Bradford in Divorce Complaint.

Special to The Tribune.

PROVO, May 8.—Jane Eliza Bradford has begun suit in the district court for divorce from Hiel Lee Bradford, alleging that the marriage took place July 24, 1909, since which time the defendant has treated plaintiff in a cruel and inhuman manner. "At Provo, during the summer of 1901, with a total disregard of the marital rights of the plaintiff, he kept company with certain girls, and one in particular he would bring to the place where plaintiff and defendant were reading, and against the protest of the plaintiff, and for the purpose of humiliating her, he would hold said girl on his lap and would kiss and caress her, to the annoyance and grief of said plaintiff."

"Also, while teaching school at Salem, Utah, the defendant indulged in the same kind of practices in 1904, carrying on to such an extent that it became a public scandal, so that the school board in a communication to the defendant threatened to discharge him unless he ceased such conduct."

Bradford is charged with applying insult and is free to construct a suitable crossing at any time. All of the preliminary work has been completed, leaving the mere matter of laying the crossing before the right of way across the Union Pacific is ready for use.

The car barn to be used by the company will be built at the corner of Pacific avenue and Thirty-first street.

Returns With Geiger. OGDEN, May 8.—Deputy Sheriff Seymour Clark arrived in the city Friday from Riverside, Cal., having in custody Philip Geiger, wanted here for failing to furnish his wife and three minor children with the necessities of life.

After presenting his requisition to the private secretary of Governor Gillette at Sacramento, Deputy Clark proceeded to Riverside, where his prisoner was held pending his arrival.

A complaint charging Geiger with the nonsupport of his family will be issued by the county attorney Saturday.

OGDEN, May 8.—With liabilities amounting to $625.11, the P. Anderson company, a tailoring establishment on Twenty-fifth street, has made an assignment in favor of the creditors of the company, and the priority of their claims.

Carl C. Ramussen is named as assignee. The assets, including unpaid accounts, are valued at $500.

After inspecting the work on the viaduct, a party composed of General Superintendent Davis, Chief Engineer Ash, and others, left for Butte, where the Oregon Short Line, left for Butte, Friday morning, where a similar inspection of the work was made.

State Fish and Game Warden Cronner has held several consultations with District Attorney Halverson regarding the alleged violations of the game and fish law in and around Ogden. The trial of Joseph Barker of Huntington, who was heard in the district court, Barker is said to have diverted water belonging to the State into a fishpond.

OGDEN, May 8.—The Provo Commercial club has decided upon June 23 as strawberry day, and four thousand bowls have been ordered in which to serve the berries. Each bowl will bear the gold inscription, "Strawberry Day, Provo, June 23, 1936."

Alvin Hatch and Alma Wilkinson, who engaged in a fist fight on Provo bench, Wednesday, when arrested, were charged with assault and battery, and were fined ten dollars each, which was paid.

William Ellsworth of Mesa, Arizona, 51 years of age, died Thursday at the home of Joseph Pansy, in the Fourth ward. Funeral services were held today from the Fourth ward meeting house at 2 p. m.

Of the many sides taken in discussing B. R. Roberts's letter to R. Lyman, there is one point on which all seem to agree: It vindicates the American party in its contents.

EUREKA, May 8.—Eureka's "400" has been in a state of excitement for a few days over the elopement of one of its fair members, Miss Euphonia McPhee. It was early in the morning when Miss McPhee was missed from her home, and an investigation revealed the fact that she had eloped with George Shepard of Salt Lake City, where she was married by Bishop Scanlan.

The young pair then left for San Francisco on a wedding trip. Miss McPhee was a very popular young lady, and for the past two years had been a clerk in the office of the Eureka Electric company. Her parents were violently opposed to the match, but she was determined to make the best of it, and will give their daughter a royal reception upon her return to Eureka in a week or ten days. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. McPhee.

HELENA, May 8.—Howard Elliott, president of the Northern Pacific, who has been a Helena visitor for two days, said today that his company would throw open immediately 200,000 acres of land near Glendive, and in the near future 500,000 acres near Billings. The company will endeavor to bring in only actual settlers, the deeds being conditioned on residence.

CHARGED WITH MURDER OF EXPRESS MESSENGER. DENVER, May 8.—"Red" (Roy) Hiale was arrested today on the charge of murdering Charles Huntington Wright, the Globe express messenger, who was shot and killed in the express car at Denver & Rio Grande train when approaching Denver yesterday morning. Hiale is 27 years old and is said by the police to have a criminal record. The nature of the evidence against him has not been made public.

French Dramatist Dies. PARIS, May 8.—The death is announced of Ludovic Halévy, the well known dramatic author and novelist. M. Halévy was a member of the French academy, and was born in this city July 1, 1854.

great wide streets are found nowhere else; and your buildings and your residences—well, when I get home I shall sound the praise of Zion in a way that will count. I will go with Lew on his tour to the coast, and then back home. But there comes Lew now. He's got his hammer. There it goes—hear the anvil ring? Good-bye!"

And then Dockstader appeared, and the great big audience did not want to let him go. He had to respond to several encores. And this was true of all his company, the best, by the way, that he has ever had. The stage settings in the first part were beautiful. Dockstader and his exceptional company will appear again this afternoon and tonight, when the engagement closes.

Grand patrons are looking forward to the presentation of "Convict 999" at that theater next week by the Earl Burgess company of players, who have opened an extended engagement at the Grand. The play promises to be a thriller in every sense of the word, and it will be most artistically staged. The Burgess company will appear for the last time this afternoon and tonight in "Queen of the White Slaves."

The programme at the Orpheum will close with this evening's performance. There are several headliners.

THAW RAISES NEW POINT IN FIGHT FOR LIBERTY

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., May 8.—Counsel for Harry K. Thaw today filed a writ of habeas corpus. The chief question raised by the traverse is the constitutionality of Thaw's commitment in the Matteawan State hospital. It is alleged that the return made by Dr. Amos T. Baker is invalid, null and void. It is claimed that the commitment is insufficient for Thaw's further detention because it does not show that Thaw was ever arraigned before Justice Dowling, who made the commitment, or that any witnesses were produced or examined in his presence; or that Thaw had any opportunity to deny the charge of insanity; or that his going at large would be dangerous to public peace and safety.

MAY RESTORE FORTUNE HE STOLE FROM BANK

PITTSBURG, May 8.—According to the United States Government officials, there are no new developments in the alleged irregularities of the Allegheny National bank, which became public yesterday through the arrest of William Montgomery, the cashier, on a charge of embezzling $400,000. Bank Examiner Fols is continuing his examination of the affairs of the bank. The arrest of Montgomery continues to be one of the greatest sensations that has occurred here in several years. The Allegheny National banking institution opened as usual today. According to a report today, Cashier Montgomery will restore the entire amount of the shortage.
